FEATURED IN THE 2005 AMERICAN SCHOOL & UNIVERSITY
ARCHITECTURAL PORTFOLIO

Overland Park, KS-November 2005-American School & University magazine announces publication of the 2005 Architectural Portfolio. An annual publication honoring education design excellence, University of Oklahoma, Huston Huffman Center-Norman, OK submitted by Bond Wolfe Architects, Inc. is among 201 projects profiled in this November 2005 issue of AS&U.

A jury of AIA members and school administrators evaluate submissions from architectural firms across the country. Outstanding designs are chosen for publication in AS&U, a monthly education facilities, purchasing and business administration magazine that will reach more than 63,050 facility planners, school and university administrators and architects with this special issue. This is the 23rd year this annual competition has been held.

In considering projects for publication, primary consideration was given to the design firm's solution to the stated educational program requirements. Specific characteristics considered included:

- Security/Safety
- Innovation
- Cost-effectiveness, life-cycle costing
- Timelessness
- Community
- Functionality
- Sense of place

More information about the Architectural Portfolio, including a complete list of 2005 projects selected for publication and jury comments about Citation-winning projects, can be found on American School & University's SchoolDesigns.com Web site.

Founded in 1928, American School & University is devoted exclusively to education facilities/business administration. The authority for information about the educational facilities market, AS&U delivers an insightful combination of exclusive reports, special focuses and how-to articles every month.
